

Kyra Worthy

Kyra is a Bay Area native who offers more than two decades of experience fostering the well-being of the region's most neglected residents. She is passionate about creating positive changes in the lives of families and improving the quality of life for all of the communities she serves.

Kyra's background features extensive experience working with San Francisco's diverse stakeholders and communities. Her experience includes management and executive level roles with many distinguished non-profits throughout San Francisco. She has received praise from professional colleagues for her leadership, energy and thoughtfulness.

Throughout her career, Kyra's work for children, youth and families has strengthened our region's safety net and has created numerous opportunities for underrepresented communities across the Bay Area. At SAFE, Kyra is committed to connecting the residents of our city with the SFPD to cultivate the positive collaboration necessary to improve the lives of everyone who calls San Francisco home.
